

Lucky

Have you ever felt lucky...

Lucky that your were blessed by something you can't even explain.

As if someone has given you a present for every day of your life...

By giving you friends that really care,

Or a family that will stand up for you through absolutely anything,

Or a sense of achievement that you feel you have worked extremely hard for,

and then to realize that it's not a gift at all but what life is really all about!
