

Lauri's Song

As the song I sing you
Fills the evening air.
Its echoing will bring you

A dream we can share.
In this night we borrow.
Together we will find
That sweeter new tomorrow
That love has designed

And though it may seem
I'm somewhere apart.

I'm close in the dream

You hear in your heart—

And

When my song is ended
And the echo's gone,
With love along to guide us,
Our dream will go on—

As every dream we share
Comes true.

I'll always be there

With you.
